Convention Notes. The Clermont county delegation ou the first ballos will stand six for Foraker, three for Kennedy and three for Beatty. Weshington will cast ten votes for Poraker and Noble will divide between Kennedy and Beatty. These counties have been differently reported several times, but unless they change every few minutes, this statement may be regarded as official.

The continuation of the Forsker b.om in-terested the delegates and visitors immensely this morning. The boom rose like the Ohlo when the Young Men's Blaine Club of Cincinneti arrived and was escorted through the main portion of Springfield by the Plug Hat Brigade and Gire Club, besded by the Re eption Committee and Big Six band.

Considerable merriment was cau ed when Mr. Taylor reterred to the Coal Oil and Allen O'Myers' Legislature, as the redoubtable O'Myers was then at the reporter's table immediately in front. The O'Myers' cheek was equal to the emergency, however, and with a smile and a bow Allen acknowledged the loubtful compliment. Rev. B. W. Arnett, of Xenia, and Rev. Poindexter, two of the most prominent colored men in Ohio occupied seats on the stage. The press gang were made very comortable. Fans were provided for their com-

Chairman O'Neall made a singularly inapropriate remark when he was trying to stop the noise during the speech of temporary chairman J. D. Taylor. Addressing the crowd he said: "Try and keep quiet a short time longer, the gentleman is almost

J. D. Taylor is a quiet dignified gentleman with brown beard and mustache and a positive air. Some of the severest critics are the boys at the Press tables. How the self esteem of pome public men would wither if they could bear these comments.

Mrp. B. H. Warder, Dr. and Mrs. Falco Miss Anna Rabbitta, Misses Anna and Louis Baldwin and Miss Bauk, their guest, Mrs. Burr Wright, Miss Nollie Baldwin, Miss Jess e Fried, Miss Julie Richardson and others rep-conted Springfeld on the stage. The stage presented a fine erray of public men. Among those noticed were Amon Townsend, of Clevelana; B. W. Arnett, of Xonia; Rev. James Poindexter, of Columbus; Captain Perry Stewart, of Clark; Judge West, the "blind man eloquent of Belletontains," and a host of others.

About half-past eight fully two hundred sitisens of Columbus, including the Columbus Gies Club and a brass band were met at the depot by Mayor Goodwin and his reception committee and accorded by the Springfield Ping Hat Brigade and Glee Club, marched through the oceter of town, and then dis-banding began to boom Beatty with true Franklin county seal.
